WORKPLACE
APPRECIATION

Research shows us that employees who receive appreciation in the workplace are happier and more productive. By adding a layer of comfort and better breakout spaces, we can help your employees feel like valued members of the team. We offer cost-effective and fully bespoke solutions, tailored to your business size and growth.

How the power of appreciation can help your business:

Increase productivity

Research shows that well-recognised employees have more drive and determination, are more efficient and can be more innovative.

Attract and retain staff

A culture of appreciation helps you become a more attractive company for employees and helps increase the loyalty of your existing workforce.

Improve employee engagement levels

Employees who feel like they belong develop better work relationships, improved personal standing and stronger connections to their company.

Create a positive work culture

The ripple of appreciation for your employees can be immediately felt while also creating a great place to work in the long term.

Build a stronger business with break room solutions

Our tailored break room solutions will help you create an ideal space for staff to relax, recharge, refuel and catch up.

CASE STUDY

Helping Bidvest Noonan build a space employees belong in at The Hub

We helped Bidvest Noonan create a warm and inviting break space by transforming their canteen into a space where staff and visitors could better connect and interact. Through workshops and surveys, we got a full understanding on what staff wanted – comfortable seating, cosy corners to chat, atmospheric lighting and, of course, great coffee. The result was a space the employees dubbed 'The Hub' – a space they loved and belonged in.
